Google Translate

Have you tried Google Translate? How often do you use it? This is a powerful tool for bringing people together from all over the world. In the past we had to rely on what our politicians and news media told us about the people of other countries. It is easy for governmental leaders to turn people against each other when there is a language barrier. Google translate has removed that barrier. With our ability to open these world-wide lines of communication, the power of Social Media for spreading that dialog, and the power of music, a brighter future for the human race is just over the horizon. Lets unite and bring these and other powerful tools together in one place. When our politicians insist on making war it's up to us to insist on peace. Watch for social media posts in foreign languages, use Google Translate to read them in your language. Reply to the post by translating your reply into their language. Share our music with them. Copy the lyrics from the song page, use Google to translate it into their language and share the translation along with the song.

Are you a creative person?

Do you have ideas that could help us with our mission? I want to hear them. We may be able to form a mutually beneficial collaboration. Reply to this email or email me at admin@MusicForWorldPeaceRecords.com.

The Essence of Creative Power: Navigating the Impact of Our Creations

Creative power is an elemental force, intrinsic to the very fabric of nature. Those who harness this power, wielding the ability to create, assume a position of remarkable influence. This underscores the vital necessity of examining both the creator's essence and the nature of their creations. What we bring into existence has the potential to either enrich or erode the foundational fabric of biological and organic identities, impacting life at its most elemental level.

Understanding the impact of our creative endeavors on our intelligences—for better or for worse—is paramount. It prompts a deeper, more introspective inquiry: Do we possess the innate capacity to create? And if so, how can we channel this ability to enhance our lives, the well-being of our families, our communities, and the broader natural order that cradles and connects us all?

This message is not a call to selflessness. Rather, it beckons us toward a journey of discernment, urging us to transcend societal perceptions and the binary confines of right and wrong, good and evil. It's about piercing the veil of superficial judgments through heightened awareness, examining how perceptions of morality evolve and transform. In doing so, we uncover the true essence of what it means to contribute positively to the world, navigating the complex interplay of creation's impact with wisdom and insight.

Featured Album

<https://musicforworldpeacerecords.com/prophetic-teachings>

Prophetic teachings an album of songs written, produced and recorded by our team. It brings the same message for world peace that is found in “sacred” texts, but presented in a non-religious way.

Click on the link above to access the album. You can listen to this album for free by clicking the play buttons. If you want to help support our mission of world peace through music, please download the album and make a donation of an amount you choose. Donations support our artists and help us grow through advertising.

Featured artist

This month's featured artist is composer, producer and performer, Frank Blades. Frank has his own studio and promotes songwriters throughout his home country, Wales. You can learn more about Frank, listen to his other songs with our label, visit his website and connect with him on social media by clicking here.

You can help support Frank's contribution to our mission by downloading his music for a donation of an amount you choose. All of our music offers donation based downloads for CD quality audio files.

Featured Playlist

This month our featured Spotify playlist is All MFWPR artists & songs. This playlist features all of our releases and is rather long. Spotify pays one penny for every 100 plays on each song, so it takes a large number of people playing the same song repeatedly for the artist and label to earn any significant revenue. If you have Spotify and would like to help, please play this playlist as often as you can. This will help these artists earn small amounts of revenue to add to their income stream.

Be part of our team

Some of you subscribed to this newsletter because you wanted to be part of a world peace movement and are looking for ways to help. We are in need of both monetary and non-monetary contributions.

The monetary contributions help support everyone who worked on your favorite releases. It also gives the label advertising revenue to help spread our message far and wide.

If you are unable to make monetary contributions we also need people to contribute skills and resources that could help with our growth. The salary or hourly rate you would have otherwise gotten for your time is the equivalent of a monetary contribution.

Our most successful projects are the result of ongoing post-release participation by everyone who contributed to the project, regardless of their role. If you have a skill you would like to contribute, a passion for world peace, and want to be part of a team that applies their skills and resources to that passion, email me at admin@musicforworldpeacerecords.com or message me on Facebook for a mutually beneficial proposal.

We are always in need of good songs that address our mission. We also need experienced lyricists, musicians, producers, videographers, singers with their own DAW, Producers, Mixing & Mastering engineers, social media marketers, business consultants, legal consultants (Local and international). If you have any of these skills or something not mentioned here that you believe could help us with our mission, I would love to hear from you.

Subscribers

Another way to contribute to the growth of our mission is to help us get more subscribers to this newsletter. There is a page on our website where others can subscribe. Please share this link with your friends: <https://musicforworldpeacerecords.com/subscribe>. If you tell them a little about what we do, they will be more likely to subscribe.
